Forthcoming Club Nights

September 10th

This month sees the return of the Club Night at Colwick Vale Social club.

Please come along for a renewal of acquaintances and to see what everyone has been up to during the summer break.

Please get there early to get the business side out of the way quickly before enjoying a drink.

7.30 prompt start

Forthcoming Events.

November 12th

River or Still, they're both a Thrill

'A talk on the art of fly fishing on both rivers and still water by Paul Sissons, winner of the Lexus match at Carsington in April with 32 fish.

Lets make this a good turnout.

December 10th - Christmas Meal

This years Christmas Dinner is again to be held at the Vale Social Club from 7.30.

Everyone invited, including partners, so why not come along for an evening of wining and dining.

Full details and menu will be in the next Newsletter

Inter Club Matches

We have fished a few matches now with Kirby and they have all been very enjoyable.

We even fished in an Inter Counties match in August at Draycote and finished third out of five teams with all club members doing well.

We hope to be invited back to this event next year.

Committee

It is now reaching the time of the year when our thoughts will soon be turning to the winter months and, of course, that will bring the AGM in just 4 months time in January.

This year, so far, the committee has struggled through without a Secretary since April and without a Match Secretary for the whole of the year.

Our thanks go to Eve Outhwaite who has helped out with doing the Secretary's job until April and also, to Rosemary Gunn, who has taken on the work of the Match Secretary as well as being the Club Chairman.

This situation is not ideal so please give a thought to helping out next year.

For any club to survive and flourish, it needs a Committee to manage it's affairs throughout the year and for the members of the committee to change, at least now and again, to allow for fresh ideas.

None of the tasks are particularly difficult or too time consuming so, please, think about supporting the club and how you can help by taking a little share of the load. The more it is spread about, the less there is for any one person to have to do.
